Board Member Report

Mrs. Werner stated a group of students and an instructor from the University of Georgia visited her farm earlier this week and took samples from her cattle herd. The group is taking gut microbe samples from cattle to compare to feed efficiencies. The group will visit 100 farms in the United States taking samples from large contemporary cattle herds. Mrs. Werner also stated a Ph.D. student was with the group and the individual’s research study project was on a group of piglets that suffered a traumatic brain injury. The piglets received a poop smoothie treatment within two hours of the injury and once per day for seven days. The results were very interesting and favorable.

Dr. Sato stated she is going to attend the American Veterinary Medical Association Annual Meeting in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania this year. Dr. Sato stated there is a lot of caution and security will be present during the conference. The concern is that many individuals will be protesting the meeting regarding the Ventilation Shutdown Plus guidelines. The depopulation guideline is separate from the Euthanasia guideline by the American Veterinary Medical Association. The ventilation shutdown is used for depopulation during a foreign animal disease outbreak to control the disease.

Rulemaking/House/Senate Files

Iowa Board of Pharmacy (IBP) Compounding Rules and Guidelines. Mr. Andrew Funk introduced himself to the Board Members regarding the current rules of office stock compounding. The previous rule permitted pharmacies to compound veterinarian products that could be used for administration at the veterinarian’s office. The IBP was approached and requested to promulgate rules that would align with some of the provisions in the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) Guidance 256 for the industry and clarity for what can be done with the compounded preparations once the product has been dispensed to a veterinarian in a non-specific format. The Board adopted ARC 6331C which does provide the pharmacy the ability to dispense a non-specific compound to a veterinarian’s office that can subsequently be sold or dispensed by that veterinarian for use in patients at home. The limitation to the rule is identified in the FDA Guidance 256 and would apply to pharmacies and outsourcing facilities. The entities would have to maintain an active license with the IBP and would therefore have the ability to sell those preparations. There are approximately 45 outsourcing entities that have a license in Iowa. Mr. Funk stated that page 8 of the guidance document would fall under the IBP rules and provides more clarity to the veterinarian. The 14-day dispensing of the medication is to treat the immediate need of the patient. The Board Members thanked Mr. Funk, Ms. Mears, and Ms. Yahnke for attending the meeting and explaining the new rule.

Dr. Burkgren stated the Valid Veterinarian/Client/Patient Relationship Emergency Services Rule comments are due by August 2nd and the Board would be able to adopt the final version of the rule as soon as August 17th but would wait until the August 25th Board Meeting if there are no major changes to the rule.

Dr. Shuey and Dr. Burkgren met with the stakeholder groups the week of July 18th and did make a few non-substantive changes to the rule.
